

December news from Zephyr Point

A Message from the Executive Director

Dear Friend,

One of the perks of being the Executive Director at Zephyr Point is the view from my office window. With the lake stretched out before me it is sometimes a challenge to concentrate on the tasks at hand! The pristine waters of Lake Tahoe, framed by snow-capped mountains, speak to me of the majesty of God. I find myself in awe at the raw beauty of this place—a reflection of God's creative genius and a sign of God's profound love for the created world.

In the Christmas story, the shepherds find themselves in awe when confronted by an angel and the glory of the Lord shining all around them. God's presence, experienced in nature or through the birth of a baby, brings terror, awe, and wonder, all wrapped up in one.

The shepherds' encounter with the Christ child resulted in their giving glory to God and telling everyone they knew that God was up to something new. We celebrate Christmas each year as a reminder that God is always up to something new, that God is present, active, and alive in the world, and that in the birth of every baby and the beauty of every sunrise, God can be seen. The appropriate response is awe and wonder.

With blessings during this Christmas season,

Dick
